Yukon Mint Announces 1st Gold Coin Design Contest Winner, 'True North Moose' by Miranda Lane

Whitehorse, Yukon, December 8th, 2017: Yukon Mint Corporation (Yukon Mint) is pleased to announce Ms. Miranda Lane and her original design, True North Moose (Keda), has been selected as the Grand Prize Winner in its gold coin design contest – 'My Kaska Nation'. To recognize Kaska art, the Yukon Mint™ approved the minting of a Kaska Gold Coin and sought proposals from Kaska artists to design a gold coin. This will be an ongoing series of gold coins with annual contests with coins to be minted in a variety of sizes. The Yukon Mint™ will now work with Ms. Lane to transform her design work into a two-sided 3-dimensional coin to be sold in select sizes. The final design will be revealed upon completion of the gold coin, followed by a ceremony to unveil the design.

President Janet Lee-Sheriff comments, "We want to thank everyone who submitted their designs to the 'My Kaska Nation' contest. We congratulate Miranda, she is a very talented artist whose vision is a true reflection of the spirit of the Yukon. We are eager to begin to create gold coins that will represent the Yukon in almost every aspect, and we are thrilled to have the 'True North Moose' mark the beginning of what we believe will be a very long Yukon tradition."

True North Moose (Keda)

Ms. Lane's submission is based on her original work, True North Moose, and depicts the Moose (Keda) honoured and recognized for all the gifts she provides for her people. The Moose represents hunting, food nutrition, community, sharing, kindness and survival and is found in the North of the medicine wheel, with North representing the place of wisdom. The sun, moon and trees represent the reciprocal arrangement we all have with Mother Earth.
